

A portrait of Dr. Magali Tshiamala, a Black woman with long, dark hair, smiling. She is wearing a white lab coat over a red top, with a stethoscope around her neck and a name tag. The background is a blurred clinical setting.

Dr. Magali Tshiamala

Board-Certified Internal Medicine Physician |
Hospitalist

Dr. Magali Tshiamala is a board-certified Internal Medicine physician with 14 years of experience in Hospitalist Medicine and a deep commitment to compassionate care, service, and community impact.

EDUCATION & EARLY TRAINING

She earned her Bachelor of Science in Clinical Laboratory Science from Michigan State University in 2003. She successfully completed a Clinical Laboratory Science internship from 2004 to 2005 and became board certified in Clinical Laboratory Science.

MEDICAL DEGREE

She earned her medical degree from The Ohio State University College of Medicine in 2009 and then completed her Internal Medicine internship and residency training at Boston Medical Center from 2009 to 2012.

CLINICAL PRACTICE

Dr. Tshiamala is affiliated with the University of Maryland and LifeBridge Health, where she practices Hospitalist Medicine and cares for a diverse patient population.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Beyond her clinical work, Dr. Tshiamala is passionate about expanding access to healthcare and giving back to communities in need. She has participated in medical missions in Lusaka, Zambia, and has volunteered at Kalala Muzeu Health Center in Mbuji-Mayi, Democratic Republic of the Congo, through the Leja Bulela Association.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

She is a member of the American College of Physicians and the National Medical Association.

Through her clinical practice and service work, Dr. Tshiamala continues to bring together medical expertise, compassion, and a strong dedication to improving the health and well-being of the communities she serves.